

QSCC is intentionally multidisciplinary and welcomes professionals at all career stages. Whether you are leading institutional change or supporting frontline improvement efforts, this conference is designed to equip you with tools you can apply. If your work touches patient outcomes, quality measurement, safety, or the delivery of high-value care, this conference is designed for you.

Common Professional Roles that Attend the ACS Quality, Safety & Cancer Conference

Administrator	Occupational Therapist
Advanced Practice Provider	Oncology Data Specialist
Anesthesiologist	Physical Therapist
Chair of Surgery	Physician
Chief Executive Officer	Physician Assistant
Chief Medical Officer	PI Coordinator
Chief Nursing Officer	President
Chief of Anesthesia	Program Administrator
Chief Quality Officer	Program Coordinator
Coordinator	Program Director
Data Abstractor	Program Manager
Data Analyst	Quality Improvement Coordinator
Dietician	Quality Improvement Practitioner

Director	Quality Improvement Professional
Director/VP of Quality	Quality Program/ Surgical
Genetics Counselor	Committee Chair
Genetics Professional	Quality Program/ Surgical
Geriatrician	Committee Member
Hospitalist	Registrar
Intern	Research Associate
Leadership Committee Member	Resident
Liaison Physician	Social Worker
Medical Director	State Chair
Medical Student	Surgeon
Multidisciplinary Team Member	Surgeon Champion
Navigator	Surgical Administrative Staff
Nurse	Surgical Clinical Reviewer
Nurse Champion	Surgical Division Chair
Nursing Student	Surgical Quality Officer
	Undergraduate Student

Your Role	Your QSCC Takeaways
Surgeon, Surgical Leader, or Physician	Engage with the latest evidence, innovations, and ACS Quality Programs that drive safer, more reliable care. Gain insights you can immediately bring back to your teams.
Quality Improvement Professional	Learn proven strategies for turning data into action, accelerating performance improvement, and building a culture of safety. Whether you are new to QI or experienced in implementation, the conference offers targeted education for every level.
Program Director, Administrator, or Coordinator	Stay current on accreditation standards, data reporting, quality measurement, and best practices shaping care.
Continued...

Clinical Team Member	Nurse, Anesthesiologist, Advanced Practice Provider, Physician Assistant, Occupational or Physical Therapist, Operating Room Staff – quality and safety depend on coordinated multidisciplinary care. The entire Clinical Team plays critical roles in achieving safer, more efficient care. Learn about multidisciplinary practices that strengthen communication, efficiency, workflow, and outcomes across the entire perioperative continuum.
Hospital Executive or Administrator	Understand how ACS Quality Programs align with institutional strategy, strengthen performance, and support sustainable, high-value care.
Registry, Data, or Informatics Professional	Dive into practical approaches for analyzing and applying ACS registry data to improve performance, reduce complications, and drive system-level change.
Researcher, Educator, Trainee, Fellow, or Student	Explore emerging science in quality, safety, and cancer care. Whether you are building foundational QI skills or advancing scholarly work, QSCC offers an educational opportunity to support your growth.